

If you're gathering, invite your neighbors.

A few weeks ago, we talked about three things: to know, pray for and engage your neighbor. This Labor Day weekend, we encourage you to be intentional and find a way to love your neighbor.

Here are some Ideas (taking social distance guidelines into account):

- Host a block party.
- Have a cookout or yard hangout with immediate neighbors.
- Plan a playdate for the kids.
- Walk your neighborhood and pray for each house. Introduce yourself to neighbors you don't know.

Conversation starters:

- How long have you lived here?
- Where are you from originally?
- Which would you pick for an ideal vacation: Beach or Mountains?
- What's one thing from this season that you hope to keep (habit, hobby, pattern, family activity, etc.)?

This weekend, take a step of love towards your neighbor(s). A step to know your neighbor a little better, to begin praying for them, or to engage them relationally in some way. Love your neighbor this Labor Day.

"By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you love one another." John 13:35
